Yes, our new backboard is up and running. Major thanks to the men who accomplished this after 3 years of exhaustive study:

Dirk Leone...who spent countless hours researching and locating the elusive board.

Karim Tadros...without his precise measurement the hoop would not be at the NBA level height of 10ft. 1.5 inches.

John Cwynar and Rob Sheffer... whose engineering skills made this happen...four hours later.

Mark Chase...the man behind the scenes and camera to bring you this historical (hysterical?) picture. Mark, Fairbrae's Board president, was the driving force and added his engineering skills to the 4 hour job.

Steve Chaney...our erstwhile manager, with hands on hips doing what he does best, uh, ah...managing.
